Umpire and scorer registration

Umpires and scorers can now register themselves through a link you share, and you can delete an official from the register. This guide covers the four things you will do: share the link, review who registered, edit, and delete.

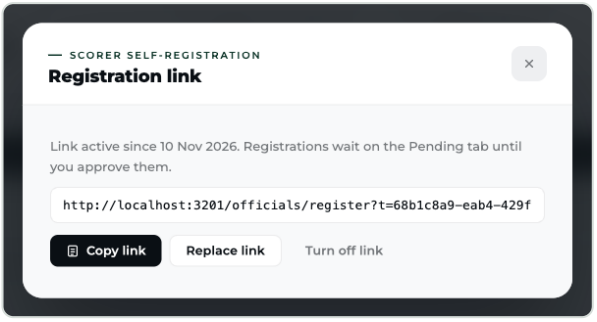

What	Where
Share a registration link	Umpires or Scorers page → Registration link
Review new registrations	Umpires or Scorers page → Pending tab
Add or edit by hand	Add umpire / Add scorer, or Edit on a row (unchanged)
Delete an official	Delete on a row in the Active or Inactive tab

1 Share the registration link

1. Open Umpires (or Scorers) and click Registration link.
2. Click Create link, then Copy link.
3. Send it by WhatsApp or email to the people who should register.

There is one link for umpires and a separate one for scorers. Anyone with the link can submit the form, so share it with your officials only.

> Replace link makes a new link and the old one stops working at once. Turn off link closes registration until you create a new one.

The Registration link window.

2 What the official fills in

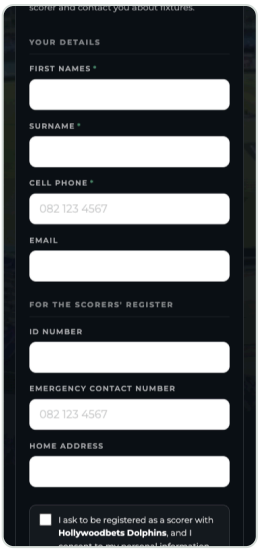

The link opens a short form with your union's branding. No login is needed.

Umpires	Scorers
First names*	First names*
Surname*	Surname*
Cell phone*	Cell phone*
Email	Email
	ID number
	Emergency contact number
	Home address

* Required. The official must also tick the consent box (POPIA) before they can register.

After submitting they see "Registration received". They are not on the register yet: you review them first.

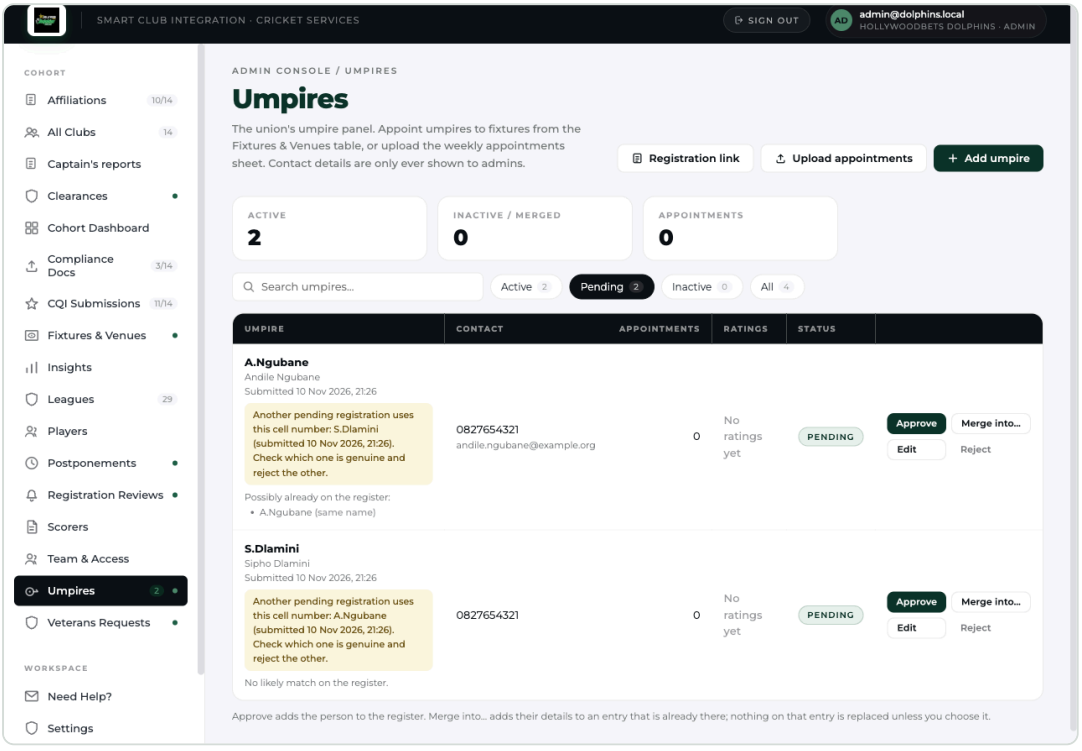

> Every submission becomes its own row on the Pending tab. Nothing a person submits can change another registration or an entry already on the register.

3 Review the Pending tab

New registrations appear under Pending, and a dot shows next to Umpires or Scorers in the side menu. A pending person cannot be appointed to a fixture until you act.

Each row shows what was submitted, whether the person may already be on the register, and a warning when two registrations share a cell number.

Button	Use it when	What happens
Approve	The person is new to the register.	They become Active and can be appointed.
Merge into…	The person is already on the register (often with no contact details).	Their details are added to the existing entry. No duplicate is created.
Edit	The name needs fixing first, for example the umpire's sheet name.	Saves the correction; the row stays Pending.
Reject	The submission is a mistake, a duplicate or not one of your officials.	The submission is deleted. The person is not told.

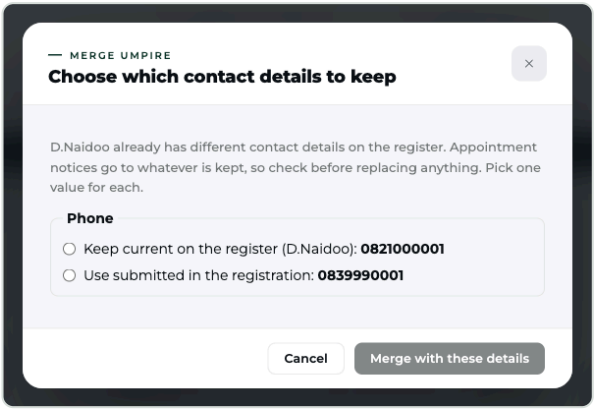

Umpire names: a registration is given a sheet-style name automatically (Andile Ngubane becomes A.Ngubane). Check it matches how the person appears on your appointments sheet before you approve.

"Possibly already on the register" lists entries with the same phone, the same name, or the same surname and initial. It is a hint only. Two different people can share a name like S.Naidoo, so check before you merge.

When details differ. Merging only fills in blanks. If the existing entry already has a different phone or email, you are asked which one to keep for each.

> Appointment notices go to whatever phone and email you keep. If the submitted details look wrong for that person, keep the current ones and phone them to confirm.

Same cell number twice. If two pending registrations use the same cell number, both rows carry a yellow warning naming the other. Check which one is genuine, for example by phoning the number, and Reject the other.

4 Delete an official

1. On the Active or Inactive tab, click Delete on the person's row.
2. Read the summary. It lists the upcoming fixtures that will be left without them.
3. Type the person's name exactly as shown and click Delete.

Removed	Kept
Name, phone, email, ID number, address Any merged duplicates of the person Their place on today's and upcoming fixtures Unsent appointment notices	Past appointments, shown as "Removed umpire" or "Removed scorer" Past captain's-report ratings (no name attached)

The Delete window shows what will change before anything is erased.

> Delete cannot be undone. Re-appoint someone else to the fixtures it lists. To stop using an official but keep their details, use Deactivate instead.

5 Good to know

- Deleting on a match day also removes the person from that day's fixture.
- Old appointment notices are not sent late. If you add a phone number to an official, they are notified about upcoming fixtures only, not ones already played. Those show "Not sent (match played)".
- A deleted umpire on a later appointments sheet is added as a new entry if "create umpires" is on. Their old history is not brought back.
- Contact details are shown to administrators only, as before.
